Denver Unit #361 of the American Contract Bridge League
Fall 2001

More changes for Denver bridge

by Kristi Endelicato, Unit 361 President

Elections for the Denver Unit Board are approaching. As a Denver Unit member in good standing, you will have the opportunity to vote for up to five candidates at the November 2001 sectional; candidates whom you feel will do the best job to organize and host four sectional tournaments, one regional tournament, two 199er tournaments and an NAOP competition each year (plus there's a little more than just that!).

The Unit Board is losing three hard-working, dedicated members who are not seeking re-election.

Anita Heitler has been a member of the Denver Unit board (remember, it's a volunteer position!) for 14 years. Anita has served in just about every position on the board, most recently as Regional Tournament Chairman.

She was instrumental in finding the Renaissance Hotel to host our Regional Tournaments, which, in itself, is an enormous contribution to Denver bridge. She knows bridge—everything from the local level to the national level. She has been a permanent fixture on the Denver Unit Board and words cannot express what her absence will mean to us.

Ginny Johnston has served on the Unit Board for the past four years, most recently as Secretary. Those of you who know Ginny will agree that she is very dedicated to making Denver bridge the best it can be. She, too, was instrumental in the Renaissance find, and Ginny was always the one to say "I'll help" when anyone asked for assistance.

Carolyn Newcomb has made numerous contributions in her two-year tenure. She, too, has held various positions, most recently as Vice President. Carolyn has improved every position she held. From treasury reporting, to our web presence, to Regional hospitality, partnerships and more, Carolyn used her extensive skill set for the betterment of bridge. She's been a real pioneer in keeping Denver bridge on the leading edge.

For these outstanding board members, the time has come to move on to new things. My personal thanks to them for giving their time and sharing their knowledge and skills to make Denver bridge more exciting and pleasurable. All of you have benefitted from their dedicated service.

Fortunately for bridge players and the Denver Unit, there is a slate of excellent candidates running for election. Please take the time to cast your vote for those who you feel will best contribute to this great game we all love.

Because we are in a permanent state of change, we've added a new event—Compact Knockouts—at our sectional tournament in November. It's being implemented on a trial basis...if you like it...we'll keep it on future sectional schedules. For those who want bridge three times a day at a sectional tournament, here's your opportunity.

As always, I want to hear from you. Feel free to call me to express your thoughts and share your ideas.

CANDIDATES FOR ELECTION TO DENVER UNIT BOARD #361

DON BOYARSKY

I have been a member of the Denver Unit for nine years and a board member for five. I want to continue to work to have Denver known as a great place to come to play Bridge and do my best to make our tournaments as good as they can possibly be.

TOM SCHMIED

I would like to contribute to the Denver Unit in promoting bridge in Denver, encouraging young people to learn the game, and planning for the NABC coming our way in 2005.

PAT HENKE

I feel honored to have been asked to run for the Denver Unit board. I offer my experience and whatever talents I possess to further bridge in the Denver area.

I've belonged to the ACBL for over 40 years and have been a member of the Denver Unit for 35 years.

As a public school team teacher I learned many useful lessons in compromise and consensus-building. Now that I've retired I have the time and energy to help promote this game we all love so much.

JUNE STARK

I would appreciate an opportunity to continue working with the Denver Unit Board of Directors. I'm serving now as a sudden replacement for a member who moved from the area. Because I knew very few of the board members, I was apprehensive about filling in. As a new member working at the May regional tournament, I was impressed with the cooperation and positive support that all board members gave each other. It was an atmosphere that I enjoyed. It made me effective in my duties at the tournament.

If elected for a full term, I will work hard in the future to maintain this sense of cooperation and to contribute to the success of our unit. We have been, and will continue to be an outstanding example of a well-run organization.

JERRY RANNEY

I have been playing bridge since the mid 60s, and have been an ACBL member since 1982. I am a certified director, and my wife and I ran a sanctioned ACBL duplicate game in Ohio during the mid 80s.

Since retiring in late 1999, I now have the time and interest to give back to the game I have enjoyed playing for the past 30+ years. I especially enjoy the intellectual challenge of duplicate bridge and the friendships I have made at the bridge table.

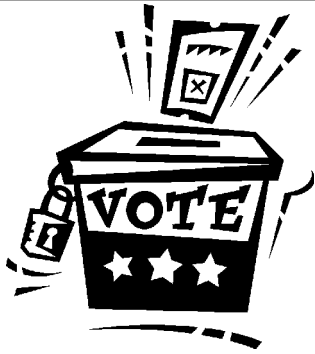

My primary goals as a board member would be to encourage new bridge players to participate in duplicate bridge, and to push for a renewed emphasis on "active ethics" in Unit #361 duplicate games and tournaments.

LARRY WHEATON

I began playing duplicate five years ago as a new area of interest after retirement. I have thoroughly enjoyed competitive bridge at both clubs and tournaments, and have found it a great way to meet people, as well as getting mental exercise. The current Unit Board has done an excellent job of improving our sectional and regional tournaments, and I would like to help maintain and continue to improve the quality. I am particularly interested in meeting the needs and concerns of new and intermediate players.

ABSENTEE VOTING

(Please read carefully and follow instructions.)

Absentee voting shall be allowed for the following reasons only:

- 1) illness
- 2) absence from the Denver Election Tournament

Absentee ballots may be obtained by requesting same from the Secretary of the Board. The only absentee ballots which shall be accepted are those which are printed by the Board. Copies or facsimiles shall be discarded. Such ballots must be mailed or otherwise submitted to the Secretary of the Unit to reach her no later than the day before the election meeting. Absentee ballots shall be enclosed in a plain envelope and shall be accompanied by a letter showing the name of the member and ACBL number and stating the member is in good standing and one who wishes to avail himself of absentee voting privileges for one or the other of the two reasons allowed. Nowhere on the ballot or in the plain envelope which contains the ballot should the member be identified. Ballots must be received by Wednesday, November 7, 2001.

Call Ginny Johnston to request your ballot (303) 282-0060. Leave your name and address on the answering machine. Return ballots to: Ginny Johnston, 2552 E. Alameda Avenue, #105, Denver, CO 80209.

Playing bridge boosts immune system

Forget exercise. Forget chicken soup. Forget sleep, vitamins and heredity.

Want to stay healthy? Play bridge. A new study by a University of California-Berkeley researcher indicates that playing contract bridge leaves people with higher numbers of immune cells.

"People are aware that voluntary activities like positive thinking and prayer work to keep us healthy, but no one has had a mechanism," said Marian Cleeves Diamond, a professor of integrative biology at Berkeley.

Diamond's study, presented in New Orleans at a meeting of the Society for Neuroscience, could be the first evidence that the human cortex—which is subject to voluntary control—can play a role in stimulating the immune system.

"These data, though preliminary, show that brain activity affects the immune system, and support the possibility of us learning to voluntarily control the level of white blood cells to help combat disease and other illnesses," she said.

Diamond's study is founded on some 15 years of research into rat and mouse brains in which researchers have sought to identify a specific area of the cortex which might play a role in the body's immune response.

For the human element of the research, she selected players in women's bridge club in Orinda, California. Bridge was selected as the game because it was seen as likely to stimulate an area of the brain—the dorsolateral cortex - which might influence the immune system.

"Contract bridge was ideal for what we were after," she said. "Bridge players plan ahead, they use working memory, they deal with sequencing, initiation and numerous other higher order functions with which the dorsolateral cortex is involved."

Diamond and her team divided the 12 women, all in their 70s and 80s, into three groups, and had each group play a one-and-a-half hour bridge set.

In blood samples taken before and after the games, all subjects revealed changes in the levels of CD-4 positive T cells, the white blood cells which patrol the body in search of viruses and other invaders.

Diamond said that in two of the groups, the levels of these T cells increased significantly. The third group showed only a slight increase, not enough to be statistically significant. The rise in the number of CD-4 cells was the only change visible in all of the blood tests.

Diamond cautioned that her findings were preliminary, and said that more research needed to be done to nail down the relationship between the cerebral cortex and the human immune system. But she added that, as preliminary findings go, these were both encouraging and exciting.

"Since we know the function of this particular area of the brain, through voluntary control we may perhaps learn to change our immune system positively," she said in an interview. "That's what is causing the excitement." © 2000 Reuters.

Origin of the four suits

The four suits of the English deck are believed to be French in origin. Their invention is credited to the French knight "Etienne De Vignolles" also known by his nickname "The Wraith."

Etienne De Vignolles gained notoriety while fighting along side Joan of Arc in the Hundred Years War. The four suits envisioned by Etienne De Vignolles represent the four classes of French society in descending order.

The highest suit, "Spades," represents nobility; "Hearts" stand for clergy; "Diamonds" for the citizens of a town or burgh, and finally, the lowest suit, "Clubs," symbolizes the lowest class in French society — the peasants.

Mary had a little slam,
At least she thought she did;
Until her partner exposed a hand
Which should have been hid — not bid.

Little Jack Horner sat in the corner
Seeking a killing lead.
The card he chose
Gave his partner such woes,
The lead was a killer indeed.

Getting most of the matchpoints

This was a hand from the Sunday Evening pairs game at the 2001 Rocky Mountain Regional.

♠	973	♠	K106
♥	KQ975	♥	10
♦	J32	♦	AKQ10
♣	102	♣	J9654
♠	QJ8542	♠	A
♥	A862	♥	J43
♦	76	♦	9854
♣	7	♣	AKQ83

Dealer: East

Both vulnerable

East	South	West	North
1♦	2♣	Dbl	P
P	P

East decides to bid diamonds before clubs so he doesn't have an awkward rebid.

West has a tough decision, but without enough points to force to the three level, he makes a negative double. On this hand, 2♠ would have been fine, and would have gotten his side to 3♠, the par result. Four spades would probably have made, but would not have been bid.

East makes an aggressive pass of 2♣, and the hand depends on how well the defenders defend.

West leads a diamond and East continues diamonds to have West trump out declarer's 9♦, ruffed by West and overruffed by North.

Now the decisions start.

Declarer plays dummy's last club, and West has to put on the 9♣ or declarer will put in the 8♣ and make six club tricks, including the diamond overruff, one heart and one spade.

Declarer then cashes the A♠ (best), and leads a heart. If West ducks (a mistake), declarer can ruff a spade before leading another heart, and use his 8♣ to make the hand.

If West takes the first heart, the defense can keep declarer from getting a heart for the 8th and contract-fulfilling trick.

A plus 200 for East-West was good for most of the matchpoints.

Denver Unit #361
Bridge Directory 2002

The Denver Unit is planning to publish a new membership directory for 2002. The booklet will be available at our Spring Sectional, March 7-10, 2002.

We get our membership information directly from the ACBL but perform updates at the local level when necessary. Generally, if your information is recorded properly with the ACBL in Memphis, it will appear correctly in our Unit Directory.

If your listing in this year's directory is incorrect, or if you change your address or phone number in the next few months, please contact Gerry Schechter, (303) 850-0223 by February 1, 2002 with this new information.

We want the directory to be as accurate as possible.
